Innovative Products

We constantly strive to improve our products and make recruitment hassle free

Why should my client use a niche job board?

Niche job boards focus on quality over quantity. While it can be tempting to cast the net far and wide using free or generic job boards, they can attract a lot of unsuitable applications which can waste the valuable time of hiring managers.

Industry specific job boards attract jobseekers with specialist skills as they can conduct a search to an intricate level. We understand that every industry has its own certification, license or experience requirements. That's why our niche job boards are purposely designed so jobseekers can find the jobs that are most relevant to them.

Our mission

Our sole purpose is to connect recruiters and skilled professionals with specialist roles. By doing this, we provide jobseekers with the opportunity to pursue a fulfilling career, climbing the ladder towards their dream job, and we allow businesses the chance to thrive in the capable hands of talented individuals, carefully sourced from our database.

Attracting the perfect candidate

Since 2003, we've grown our databases to over 2 million jobseekers, but we're not stopping there! We work hard every day to ensure that number keeps growing and maximising your clients chance of finding the perfect candidate.

Industry Partners

We're partnered with some of the world's biggest organisations to target professionals when they're not even looking for their next career opportunity.

Blogs

We offer so much more than just jobs; our blogs feature all the latest industry news and job seeking advice which keeps jobseekers coming back time and again.

Aggregators & Paid Advertising

Our aggregator and paid advertising teams make sure your clients job is put in front of as many relevant jobseekers as possible.

CV Discovery

Cherry pick the best candidates

Search for the perfect candidate using our CV Databases.
Over 7,500 CVs are uploaded or updated every day so finding the best candidates has never been easier.

Why it works

Intelligent search system

Search for the perfect candidate using keywords such as 'Boeing 737 Captain' or 'HGV Technician.'

Narrow down the search

Search for candidates based on location, experience, qualifications, languages spoken, salary or preferred position.

Target the most active jobseekers

Filter CVs by 'recently updated' or 'last active' to ensure you're only targeting the most relevant jobseekers.

Only download what you need

We'll even let you read a candidate's full CV before downloading it, so no wasted downloads.

“The new Smart Search has been very helpful, I have been working on one particular job since August 2019, I was finding it difficult to source new candidates. Since switching to the new system I've already found 3 new candidates.”

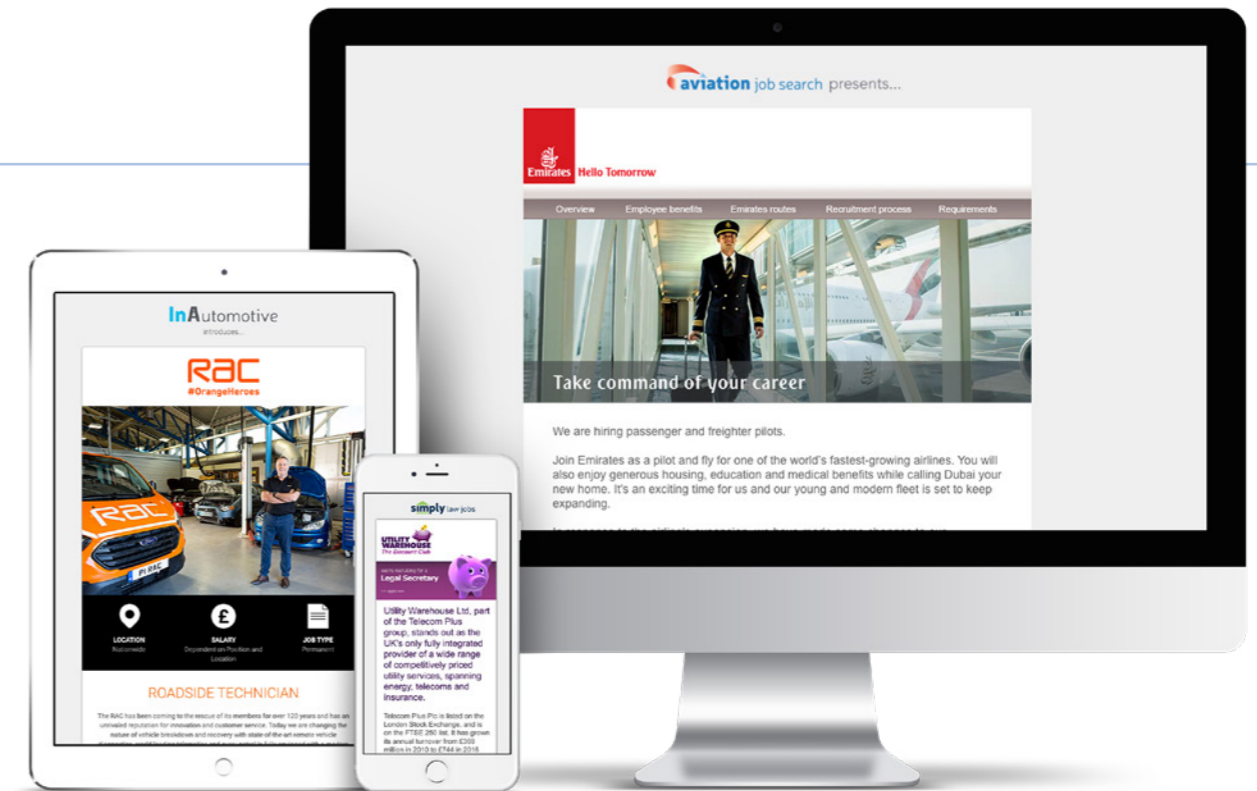

Paul Edgerton, Excel Technical

Targeted Email

Land in your perfect candidate's inbox

If your client is looking to enhance applications to a particular role, a targeted email is the perfect solution. We segment our jobseekers via job title and location to ensure your client only receives the most relevant applications.

Why it works

Save time

Relax and let our inhouse design team create a professional HTML email for you. Simply let us know what information and graphics to include.

Send by location

If your client is looking to attract jobseekers in a certain location, let us know and we'll run a report to see how many active and relevant jobseekers are on our database in that area.

Hassle free

Once approved, we'll send out the email on your behalf.

Measure success

Once sent, discover how successful the email was with a detailed performance report.

The best of the rest

Recruitment solutions for every business

Sponsored Job

Feature at the top of a jobseekers search

Simply select the job title and location your client is looking to target.

When a jobseeker makes a search matching the same criteria, we'll put your client right at the top of that search.

Heightened exposure means even more relevant applications.

Recruiter Profile

Let jobseekers get to know your business

Create a distraction free zone for jobseekers to view just your clients jobs.

It's a great place to show off the business with an 'About Section' and branded banner space.

Jobseekers can also sign up to receive alerts every time your client posts a new job.

Managed Service

All you need to do is interview

If your client simply doesn't have time to search for the perfect candidates, let us do it for them!

Our expert resourcing team knows everything there is to know about recruiting top talent.

Sit back and watch only the best candidates land in your inbox.
